

Lumps of marble chips were added to dilute hydrochloric acid at room temperature to produce calcium chloride, carbon dioxide and water .The experiment was repeated using warm acid. The reaction was faster.

In terms of particles, explain why the reaction was faster.