

Diamond and graphite are allotropes of carbon. Give two differences between the structure of diamond and graphite.