

Titanium can be extracted by the electrolysis of titanium (IV) oxide, TiO_2 , dissolved in molten calcium chloride.

The molten electrolyte contains the titanium ions, Ti^{4+} .

Write the half equation for the formation of titanium at the electrode.