

Diamond and water both have covalent bonds. Explain why the melting point of diamond is much higher than that of ice.