

In industry, chlorine can be produced by the electrolysis of concentrated sodium chloride solution using carbon electrodes. State the electrode at which chlorine is produced.

Choose from the options in bracket (anode, cathode).