

What substances are needed for rusting to take place?