

When ammonium chloride dissolves in water the temperature of the water decreases. This is an example of